Pertinent Information: Sharlyn had vacation from July 1 through July 13. The grievance was filed due to payroll not crediting the vacation pay properly. What was established is: If there is an overlap situation on vacation, you will be paid for the greater of the two days that overlap. If it would be physically possible (not contractually or FAR legal) for one person to fly both trips on that day (ie, an a.m. trip that ends at 1530 and a p.m. that pushes at 1600), you will be paid the trip pay for both of those assignments for that day.
